

23 March 2004 - BBM announces new service

From mid- 2004 we are able to offer a select number of clients a new and memorable '0845' number!

Is your number too long? Are you losing too much business as customers are unable to recall the last 6 digits of your company's lifeline - the telephone number??

The exclusive 0845 numbers are a popular and successful remedy for any and every image-conscious business. All calls are charged at local rate for your customers, no matter where in the UK your customer might call, and all calls are completely free to your business if they are diverted to a land-line number (fees will apply if they are transferred to a mobile). There are no extra registration fees (monthly, annually or otherwise) - once the number is purchased, you own the rights to that number for life!

What is the catch - well, mathematics suggest that there are only a finite set of memorable number sequences available, and after they've been sold, there will be no chance to purchase them again (simply, why would the new owners want to give them up??!) - so you must get in there sharpish, to get the best deal.

In summary -- for as little as £59, you could have the memorable number your company or business deserves! To request further information, please email a member of our sales team at sales@bigboymedia.com or drop us a line on our own 0845 2 26 26 38 today!
